Perdue® Sustainability Program

Do you deliver corn or soybeans to a Perdue facility and use regenerative ag practices? You may be eligible to earn up to $20 per acre.<sup>1</sup>

Enroll in the Perdue Sustainability Program to implement regenerative ag practices and improve soil resiliency. Get paid for your historical practices in crop season 2023 and for your practices in 2024 with our new two-year program.*

Get rewarded for submitting agronomic data about your reduced tillage and cover crop practices.

Did you plant your 2023 corn or soybeans utilizing no-till or strip-till practices?

Earn up to $10/acre<sup>2</sup>
for two crop years

Was a cover crop grown in fall of 2022 or spring of 2023 ahead of corn or soybeans?

Earn up to $10/acre<sup>2</sup>
for two crop years

Do I Qualify? Growers must meet the following criteria to enroll:

- Enrolled fields produced corn or soybeans in 2023 that was delivered to an approved Perdue facility in DE, MD, VA, PA, NJ or NC
- Maximum number of enrollable acres is based on the volume of grain delivered to an approved Perdue facility by February 16, 2024
- Plant cover crops and/or practice no-till or strip-till continuously (verification and agronomic data is required)
- Agree to submit agronomic data for the 2023 crop year and 2024 crop year (no historical data is needed)

Enrollment ends February 16, 2024.

Be one of the first 100 enrollees and get a FREE Climate FieldView™ Drive (a $379 value). Connect your equipment to your mobile device and seamlessly collect data as you pass through your fields, no matter what equipment you have.
